The Court believes that further elaboration of the discovery schedule is needed with specific benchmarks, including:

trials, and those requirements should be given priority.

shall be submitted no later than July 13, 2011.

II. Bellwether Selections.

The conduct of a trial in the first quarter of 2013 will markedly advance these proceedings. The Court believes that selection of a personal injury/wrongful death case in most the likely type of case to meet that goal. The Court designates Plaintiff's selection, Van Alfen v. Toyota Motor Sales, U.S.A., Inc. Case No. 2:11-cv-04143 JVS (FMOx) (C.D. Cal.), as the first trial.

Case 8:10-ml-02151-JVS-FMO Document 1493 Filed 06/10/11 Page 5 of 6 Page ID #:55454

Selection of a second case will be taken up in September when the Court conducts a further scheduling conference on class actions issues. See infra. If the second case is a personal injury/wrongful death action, the Court is convinced following the hearing that the case should be Toyota's first choice, St. John v. Toyota Motor Corporation, Case No. 4:10-cv-00075-CDL (M.D. Ga.).

III. Class Action Timetable

The Court defers adopting a timetable for completion of discovery relevant to class determination, and briefing and hearing motion(s) for class certification. The Court believes that the parties ought to have an opportunity to assess the Court's choice-of-law ruling and its impact on the prosecution of class claims. (See Docket No. 1474.) The Court sets a further scheduling conference on
